

Equality and diversity Policy Statement

1. Introduction

1.1 MTC learning core business is to provide inclusive and responsive “first steps” and “second chances” education and training. MTC is committed to the promotion and implementation of equal opportunities and positive attitudes towards diversity of staff and learners and seeks to ensure that everyone has an equal opportunity to succeed regardless of their starting point

1.2 This Equality and diversity policy describes in a single document how MTC will fulfil its statutory duties to promote equality of opportunity and avoid discrimination with particular regard to the separate equality duties for disability, gender and race but also includes sexual orientation, religion or belief and age. The Equality Scheme also sets out the actions that the MTC has taken, or intends to take, in relation to equality.

2 MTC learning Commitments

2.1 MTC celebrates and values the diversity brought to its workforce and student body by individuals and believes that MTC will benefit from engaging and including board directors, staff and students of all ages from both genders, regardless of racial, ethnic or national backgrounds, sexual orientation and those with different abilities and disabilities.

2.2 MTC further believes that the diversity of its workforce is a key element in allowing it to meet the needs of a diverse student population within a multicultural society.

2.3 MTC will treat all employees with respect and dignity and seeks to provide a positive working environment free from discrimination, harassment or victimisation.

2.4 MTC will work towards the elimination of discrimination whether overt or covert.

2.5 MTC will also seek to eliminate harassment and promote equality of opportunity for staff and students who intend to undergo, are undergoing or have undergone gender reassignment.

2.6 MTC will seek to ensure that staff have equal access to opportunities for training and promotion, to facilities and to resources.

2.7 As part of the normal process of consultation MTC will consult with all staff about their experience of the working environment. This will include individuals and groups who may have a particular experience of discrimination in the workplace.

2.8 MTC will seek not only to eliminate discrimination, but also to create a working environment based on good relations between women and men of all ages, regardless of racial, ethnic, or national back grounds, sexual orientation and those with different abilities and disabilities. To this end, the College undertakes to provide diverse, non-stereotypical images in any material which it produces for students and staff. The aim is to create a positive inclusive ethos where issues of discrimination and stereotyping can be discussed openly, with a shared commitment to challenging and preventing discrimination, to respecting diversity and difference, and to encouraging good relations between different equality groups within the school.

2.9 MTC will seek to ensure that individuals and communities have equal access to learning programmes, resources, and facilities.

2.10 MTC will ensure that board directors, staff, learners, and their sponsors (including partners, contractors and work placement providers) are aware of the value placed upon equal opportunity, of our Equality Scheme, of the action needed for its implementation and that action will be taken in the event of any breach of the published arrangements.

2.11 MTC will ensure that board of directors and staff have access to comprehensive information, which assists them to plan, implement and monitor actions to carry out their responsibilities under the Equality Scheme and associated policies and procedures.

3 Purpose and Scope of the Equality Scheme

3.1 The MTC Equality Scheme has the following main purposes:

- To ensure there is equality for all learners and potential learners when accessing services and provision offered by MTC
- To ensure there is equality of opportunity for all learners in terms of outcomes
- To ensure there is equality for all current and potential employees of MTC
- To promote positive attitudes towards equality and diversity
- To promote a working and learning environment that is free from discrimination, harassment or victimisation and where there are positive relations between people of different racial groups, cultures, religions, ages, sexuality, abilities and disabilities and both genders
- To meet legal requirements

3.2 This Scheme applies to all members of the MTC community, including various agencies and others with whom the College works.

4 Legal Framework

4.1 The Equality Act 2010 brought together all the legal requirements on equality that the private, public and voluntary sectors need to follow. It affects equality law at work and in delivering services.

The message (or purpose) of the Equality Act is that everyone has the right to be treated fairly at work or when using services. It protects people from discrimination on the basis of certain characteristics. These are known as protected characteristics and they vary slightly according to whether a person is at work or using a service. All employers and service providers have a responsibility under the law to treat their employees and service users fairly.

4.2 There are nine personal characteristics that are protected under the legislation: age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership status, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation.

4.3 The main forms of prohibited conduct are:

Discrimination:

- Treating a person worse than someone else because of a protected characteristic (known as direct discrimination).
- Putting in place a rule or way of doing things that has a worse impact on someone with a protected characteristic than someone without one, when this cannot be objectively justified (known as indirect discrimination).
- Treating a disabled person unfavourably because of something connected with their disability when this cannot be justified (known as discrimination arising from disability).
- Failing to make reasonable adjustments for disabled people.

Harassment:

Unwanted conduct which has the purpose or effect of violating someone's dignity or which is hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive to someone with a protected characteristic or in a way that is sexual in nature.

Victimisation:

Treating someone unfavourably because they have taken (or might be taking) action under the Equality Act or supporting somebody who is doing so.

As well as these characteristics, the law also protects people from being discriminated against:

- By someone who wrongly perceives them to have one of the protected characteristics.
- Because they are associated with someone who has a protected characteristic. This includes the parent of a disabled child or adult or someone else who is caring for a disabled person.

4.4 Public Sector Equality Duty

The Equality Act places a duty on public sector employers, including the College to do three things:

1. Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct prohibited by the Act.
2. Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not.
3. Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not.

These are sometimes referred to as the three aims or arms of the general equality duty.

The Act helpfully explains that having due regard for advancing equality involves:

- Removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by people due to their protected characteristics.

- Taking steps to meet the needs of people from protected groups where these are different from the needs of other people.
- Encouraging people from protected groups to participate in public life or in other activities where their participation is disproportionately low.

9.2 The Action Plan will be monitored and reviewed by MTC.

10 Equality Impact Assessment (EIA)

10.1 There are 2 types of “impact”:

- A negative or adverse impact – an impact that disadvantages one or more groups.
- A positive impact on one or more groups and/or relationships between groups.

10.2 The Equality Impact Assessment is a systematic tool for identifying the impact, or potential impact (both negative and positive), of MTC strategies, policies, procedures, services and functions on different groups of people, in particular its students or employees. Where a negative impact is identified, action plans will be put in place to mitigate the effects at an early stage and to monitor progress. Any positive impact on promoting equality will be shared internally.

10.3 Not all strategies, policies, procedures, services and functions will require a full impact assessment. An initial screening of the strategy, policy, procedure, service or function will be carried out to consider whether a full impact assessment is required.

10.4 If the initial screening reveals a negative impact, a full impact assessment will be needed

10.5 The responsibility for conducting Equality Impact Assessments in MTC rests with all Managers responsible for drafting and implementing the strategies, policies, procedures, services or functions.

10.6 Training for Managers on carrying out impact assessment will therefore be provided.

11 Monitoring and Review

10.1 The Equality Scheme will be reviewed annually, following consultation with appropriate groups and through MTC to ensure continued compliance with equalities legislation and to ensure all MTC strategies, policies, procedures, systems, and functions remain non-discriminatory.

10.2 This Equality Scheme was prepared with regard to the statutory framework, arrangements in place in similar organisations and in consultation with managers. Arrangements will continue to be made for wider and ongoing consultation.

10.3 The Policy will be monitored through MTC Equality & Diversity Group.

11.4 Reports are presented to MTC staff and directors meetings.
